and will be learning the new tricky words:

some, come, love, do

Thank you to all those parents who are accessing our e-books online with their children. We hope your children are enjoying sharing these books with you at home.

We will continue to send home books which are of a similar level, along with a book from our class library chosen by your child. We encourage you to share these books with your children at home looking for tricky words, talking about the stories, practising segmenting and blending and looking out for our focus words too. Please don't forget to write in your child's reading record book, they love telling us what they are reading at home as well as at school.

Thank you for your continued support in hearing your child read at home.
